

Tutorial: Introduction to MATLAB

Marek Kočańczyk

Monday, June 11, 3:50-4:50 PM

In this tutorial, students will learn the basic commands and structures for scientific computing in Matlab. We will go through basic tasks including: control structures, solving linear algebra problems, solving ordinary differential equations and partial differential equations, working with random numbers and making plots and figures. Open-source alternatives to Matlab will be discussed as well.